'Springtime In Old Town' - Saturday, May 19

Tustin City of Trees - Join our Tree Walk as part of Tustin's Spring Promenade tour.

Annual Tustin Home & Garden Promenade Tour

Each year the Tustin Area Historical Society and Museum plans their annual fund-raising event, the Promenade Home and Garden Tour. Our theme this year is "Springtime in Old Town". Co-Chairmen Jeanne Brown and Don Ropele, along with a hard working committee are now busy coordinating the big event. The proceeds will go to benefit the Museum and its many projects to preserve the history of Tustin.

It is always a beautiful fun day and we invite everyone to walk around Old Town Tustin's Main Street and El Camino Real down to Jamestown Village and enjoy the sights of downtown Tustin. On May 19 we will offer two guided walks - an Architecture Walk pointing out historical buildings which will be led by members of the Tustin Preservation Conservancy, at 9:30 am and at 10:30 am our annual Tree Walk led by Guy Stivers, local landscape architect. He will point out our lovely old trees, as Tustin is known as the City of Trees.

Plan to buy a pre-sale ticket at the Museum or by mail until Friday, May 18 at $20. each. You will enjoy a tour of 6 houses and 2 gardens, one of which is our refreshment area. The day begins at the Tustin Presbyterian Church on the corner of Main and C Streets where you will pick up your pre-sale ticket tour book or purchase your ticket for the day at $25.00 each at the Registration table. Once again we will have our Quilt display in the Fellowship Hall, arranged by Peggy Braun. All of the quilts are hand made by local ladies. We will have vendors that will be selling their specialties in the Church Courtyard. Barbara Bryant has asked several Tustin artists from the Tustin Art League to show their paintings along Main Street. We also have many wonderful Opportunity Prizes with tickets for sale in the Museum.

Saturday, May 19, "Springtime in Old Town" will begin at 9:00 am and continue through 4:00 pm, at the Registration Table at the Presbyterian Church. Invite your friends and join us for a wonderful day. Please call Barbara at the Museum (714) 731-5701 or email tustin-museum@surfside.net for more information.

Everyone is Welcome!

Paul Apodaca, MA, Ph.D.

From Tustin To Chapman University

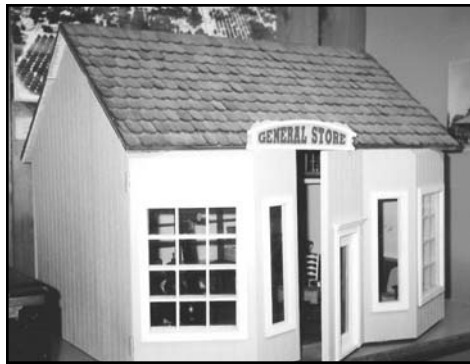

Paul Apodaca, MA, Ph.D., was born in Los Angeles and raised in Tustin. He is of Navajo and Mexican heritage and his mother still lives in Tustin. He graduated from UCLA with a Masters in American Indian studies and a Doctorate in Folklore and Mythology. Today he is Associate Professor of American Studies at Chapman University and an Adjunct Professor of American Studies at UCLA.

He has a vast and interesting history as a consultant, editor, panelist and speaker for many museums, California Councils and Libraries, as an (expert) on Native American Indian studies. He is a past curator of American Indian art and California history collections for Bowers Museum and a past consultant for California for the Smithsonian Institute Museum of the American Indian. He has won many awards and will bring to us a wonderful program as our speaker on Monday, April 16.

MEMORIES OF TUSTIN

Joyce Bixler Miller

Tustin Area Historical Society since 1990

Tustin High School graduate 1964

Family came to Tustin in 1917

As lovely as Orange County summers were, children in the late 40's, and early 50's still sought to cool themselves off in the water, either playing at the beach, swimming in the city plunge at Hart Park (before the polio scare), or running through the lawn sprinklers. Another alternative, for those of us who lived on citrus ranches, was the irrigation system. Some of my favorite memories involve those hot summer days of my childhood, waiting eagerly for the irrigation water to begin flowing into our standpipes. Tustin growers contracted with the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation (namesake of the SAVI Ranch area in eastern Yorba Linda) for grove water at regular intervals each year. The water was released for a period of several days to each ranch, but while you knew its arrival date, the exact hour was 'iffy.' I would race out, hopes high, on the morning it was due to check the main standpipe. If it remained dry, by afternoon when the temperature climbed, I was resolutely stationed in the rope swing hanging from a large walnut branch close by, where I listened for the first gurgle of water as I swung. Oh, the excitement when the water began to flow, coursing through the ditches! Those ditches guided my little boats of scrap wood with their orange-leaf sails and pill-bug crews. The wide irrigation ditch beneath the swing gave my bare toes something cool to trail and splash through with every arc, and the wooden platform in the tree became my raft on the 'river.'

With today's air conditioning, water toys, and numerous private pools, cooling off is no longer difficult, but in my mind they can never equal the excitement the 'wild waters' brought as they flowed in the shade of that old walnut tree.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This is an exciting and busy time of year as so many people are working feverishly in preparation for our annual home and garden tour. I can promise you that this year's program will make for a wonderful day on Saturday, May 19. Call the Museum for information about "Springtime in Old Town", (714) 731-5701, mark your calendar.

On behalf of the Board of Directors for the Tustin Area Historical Society, we want to again express our appreciation for your generous membership contributions. Your contributions enable us to perpetuate all the ideals of which the Museum was founded upon. We could not do it without your support.

I look forward to seeing you on April 16 for our program at the Senior Center at 7:30 pm. Paul Apodaca will be a most interesting speaker. Everyone is welcome.

Don Ropele, President

We Need Volunteer Docents

The Museum needs volunteer help to conduct school tours. 3rd grade classes are now scheduling tours of the Museum on Tuesday and Thursday mornings through June. With a little training I am sure you would enjoy showing the groups of children and their teachers around the Museum.

Also at other times when the Museum is normally open to visitors, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10 am. to 2 pm., we need greeters in 2 hour shifts. If any of you, our members, would like to volunteer 2 hours a month, please call Barbara or Bill at the Museum (714) 731-5701 and offer to help.

PROMENADE COMMITTEE LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS

The 2007 Promenade committee chairmen are putting together a wonderful day for May 19, "Springtime in Old Town." Volunteers are needed in many areas of the tour. If you are interested please call Doreen Corwin, Volunteer Coordinator, at (714) 838-1446 or Barbara at the Museum (714) 731-5701 for more information. Barbara is Pre-Sale Ticket Chairman, also. Directing the annual event are Co-Chairmen Don Ropele and Jeanne Brown.
